Medidress Surgical clothing set

Medidress surgical sets are made of fabrics characterised by softness and delicacy. A special weave of yarn used in the fabric gives high comfort in using the clothing. The product may have a bacteriostatic finish that prevents the multiplication of bacteria, and the carbon thread inserted into the fabric prevents the accumulation of electric charges. The sets consist of a sweatshirt and trousers, or a sweatshirt and a skirt. The sweatshirt has a yoke on the front, short sleeves and three sewn pockets, which can be decorated with coloured vertical trimmings at the customer's request. On the sides of the sweatshirt there are slits that do not restrict the user's movements. Straight pants, finished with a belt with ties to adjust the waist. Straight skirt (envelope cut), with a belt and ties to tie at the waist.
