Matodress STANDARD Surgical gown

STANDARD surgical gowns are made of polypropylene nonwoven. Provide protection against hair, exfoliated epidermis and dust. Every gown is loose, wide, and enables to precisely cover the surgeon’s trunk. The sleeves have a seamless dust-free polyester cuff which precisely embraces the wrist. Two sets of ties enable first “dirty” and then “clean” tying. Special cardboard with affixed external ties allows for aseptic application of the gown, and the book-folding enables quick and self-application by the surgeon.
